7 OF THE BEST ECO-CONSCIOUS HOTELS

Marrying a sense of spoiling luxury with a responsibility to the natural world and the communities that sustain them, these hotels with a conscience are shaking up the way we travel. By CATHERINE FAIRWEATHER

EXCLUSIVE ESCAPE

Guests of Chris Blackwell's other Jamaican resorts – GoldenEye, The Cave and Strawberry Hill – are able to visit and stay over at Pantrepant

PANTREPANT Cockpit Country, Jamaica

Jamaica's Cockpit Country, all fenceless hills and rainforest terrain, surrounds the rustic and romantic guest cottage at Pantrepant. This is music and hotel impresario Chris Blackwell's private estate and working farm, where he raises Red Poll cattle, sheep, chickens and geese and where, under the shade of the ancient guango tree towering over the estate, you can reconnect with yourself and nature. Memorable farm-to-table dining and wild swimming in the river amongst old sugar plantation ruins all add to the exhilarating sense of living close to flora and fauna. The sheer unbridled freedom of the place will make you feel alive.
